Cost comparison between purchase and rent:

The cost type based on the period of using is an important impact.
It can be an advantage if companies compare the one-time investment costs with relatively fast amortization time and long-term costs.
Especially than when the company plan to integrate more users at the start time in the foreseeable future.

Companies will come to the conclusion that a one-time investment will be more cost-effective than consistently recurring costs with an increase in the number of additional users.

Fields of application for Collaboration:

- ✔ Sales presentations
- ✔ Presentation of products or services
- ✔ Remote customer and employee support
- ✔ Keep webinars
- ✔ Conduct online training
- ✔ Interactive collaboration in real-time
- ✔ Performing e-learning events

RHUB TurboMeeting is a straightforward web conferencing solution for ad hoc and scheduled meetings.

The user interface is very lean and convinces through its clever arrangement of features rather than a flash based design.

Meeting hosts have all the essential functionalities available which they need, e.g. to jointly work on documents with other meeting participants.

Also, meeting setup can be handled in Outlook in two easy steps, inviting the attendees at the same time.
